This screenshot shows the VS Code editor with the `style.css` file open. The code defines styles for a navigation bar and a showcase area. The navigation bar is a flex container with space-between items, centered, with a height of 64px. It contains menu items (flex container, order 2, flex display) and a logo (order 1, font-size 3rem). Navigation links are in the navbar with a color of #444, no text decoration, font-weight 500, and a transition. On hover, the color changes to #117964. The showcase area has a height of 50vh.

style.css > {} @media (max-width: 500px)

This screenshot shows the VS Code editor with the `style.css` file open, displaying styles for the 'about' page. It includes font styles for the about section and its sub-elements, as well as animations for the image and text. The about section has a font-size of 3.2rem. The about p element has a font-size of 1.6rem and color #555. The about .small element has a font-size of 1.6rem, color #666, and font-weight 600. The about-img element has a flex of 1 1 400px, padding of 30px, transform of translate(150%), and animation of about-img-animation 1s ease-in-out forwards. The about-text element has a flex of 1 1 400px, padding of 30px, margin auto, transform of translate(-150%), and animation of about-text-animation 1s ease-in-out forwards. The keyframes for about-img-animation and about-text-animation are defined at the bottom.

style.css > {} @media (max-width: 500px)
